NAME OF THE PROGRAMME: Research Methodology

START DATE : 16-04-2019

END DATE : 18-04-2019

TIMINGS : 10.00 AM to 1.00PM

A 9 hour duration course was conducted for faculty. The course content was designed to meet the needs of teachers while pursuing research.

Research goes beyond the process of gathering information; rather, it is also about finding answers to unanswered questions as part of discovering and/or creating new knowledge. Research paper's methodology more or less defines the validity of the research paper. According to Somekh and Lewin (2005), a research methodology is both "the collection of methods or rules" you apply to your research, as well as the "principles, theories, and values" that support your research approach. In other words, research paper's methodology section deals with collection or generation of ideas.

Prof. Dr. D. Haritha, Professor, and the Head, Department of CSE was one the resource persons for the workshop. She spoke on how to choose a problem statement and how to use different methods for gathering information
